Close-Reading Questions

Refer to “The Road to Revolution” to respond to the questions below. Reread the article to find details that support your answers. Remember to write in complete sentences.

1. How did Christopher Seider’s death spark a revolution?

   ______________________________________________________
   ______________________________________________________
   ______________________________________________________
   ______________________________________________________
   ______________________________________________________
   ______________________________________________________
   ______________________________________________________

2. How does the section “Troubled Times” contribute to the reader’s understanding of the article?

   ______________________________________________________
   ______________________________________________________
   ______________________________________________________
   ______________________________________________________
   ______________________________________________________
   ______________________________________________________
   ______________________________________________________

3. Describe what happened on March 5, 1770, before shots were fired.

   ______________________________________________________
   ______________________________________________________
   ______________________________________________________
   ______________________________________________________
   ______________________________________________________
   ______________________________________________________
   ______________________________________________________